RICHMOND, VA., SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 4, 1880.

CASHIER SNEAD, OF THE RICHMOND AND ALLE-GHANY RAILROAD, PRESENTED WITH A SET OF SILVER-OLD BOATMEN SAYING GOOD-

Yesterday afternoon Mr. R. B. Snead. who for thirty years very acceptably filled the office of toll-gather on the James River and Kanawha canal, was presented with a handsome service of silver by the boating fraternity and friends with whom he has had business transactions during his connection with the company. The service consisted of five pieces-pitcher, waiter, two goblets, and bowl-and is very beautiful. The pitcher has the following inscription upon it: "Presented to R. B. Snead at the close of his career as Toll-Gatherer of James River and Kanawha Canal Company, September 4, 1880." Each of the other pieces had "R. B. S." engraved upon them. Mr. Ro-bert F. Vaughan was selected to deliver the the congregation, the oldest members each presentation address, and in doing so spoke as follows:

Mr. Snead,-In taking leave of you this evening I represent a committee of the boating fraternity, and many of your friends, who desire me in their behalf to present you this service of silver in testimony of our sincere regard and affection.

it was not deserved; and severing the ties which have so long bound us together sends a pang to each of our hearts, and we can only pray that this little memento may be emblematic of the bright crown you shall receive when your last day's work is done. Mr. Snead, who was taken entirely by Rev. Mr. Harris then read from 1 Kings, surprise, returned his sincere thanks for the beautiful testimonial, and alinded very touchingly to his past connection with the company. He said that during the last thirty years he had held the position of tollgetherer, and had always endeavored to fill the office acceptably; and by being the recipient of such an elegant present, coming from the source it did, he felt that he had performed the duties of the office faithfully. Finally Mr. Snead's feelings overcame him, and with tears in his eyes he concluded the evening service by the pastor, assisted his remarks.

During his connection with the James-River and Kanawh Canal Company Mr. Snead has proved himself to be a most efficlent officer, and was rightly held in high steem by all with whom he came in contact, whether in private or in business life. He succeeded his father, the late Major Reinhardt, Mrs. John H. Knowles, Mr. E. Jesse Snead, a Virginian of the old school W. Hoff, Mr. Gus. were first at the bat and had had their eighth inning, in which they were blanked, so the Richmond Club went in, and on their eighth inning they made eleven runs. One only would have been necessary to have given us the victory, but the Petersburg boys did during the present year, and request that the city of Richmond, as an equal owner of said property, shall subscribe at once a like amount at least, in order to keep in passable condition the James-River bridge.

The Council then went into the election inning, in which they were blanked, so the Richmond Club went in, and on their eighth BYE-CLOSING OF THE CANAL TO-DAY— would have been necessary to have given us the victory, but the Petersburg boys did not think it too dark until they had let the Richmond's score eleven runs and two hands out, refusing to put out third hand. Perhaps they were not posted on the following rule, which you will please publish for their benefit:

Rule 33, section 4, of Spaulding's Base-Ball Guide, says: "If umpire calls game on account of darkness or rain at any time af-ter five innings have been completed by both sides the score shall be that of the last equal inning played, unless the side second at bat shall have scored one or more runs than the side first at bat, in which case the score of the game shall be the total number

The Petersburg boys are in error about not having their eighth inning. Respectfully yours, HENRY C. BOSCHEN.

Water-Famine in Richmond. Editors of the Dispatch: Well do you say, in your paper of the 31st, that "there is no excuse for the water-famine in Richmond." After the enormous expenditure in the construction and management of the water-works of this city it is a reproach and sincere regard and affection.

Sir, we can never forget your many acts of kindness, your universal courtesy and a disgrace to its Councils and executive officers that its citizens are compelled during it not months, of the year to many weeks, if not months, of the year to drink and wash in mud, and at other times to be deprived of even this substitute for pure water and have their bomes and pro perty exposed to certain destruction by fire. But are you not mistaken in attributing this total destitution of water to the unne-

You say "you do not know how many gallons are even now pumped into the two reservoirs every day," but you suppose it well worth attending. to be "not less than six or seven millions of gallons, or a hundred gallons daily for each inhabitant of the city," and less than one sixth of the capacity of the new reser-

Now, just here I think you make the mismonths past visited the reservoirs, and in every instance seen how little water there was in them, can believe that the baif of the quantity supposed by you was ever pumped into these reservoirs daily. Nor is it credible that "every inhabitant of the city-men, women, and children"-ever consumed or wasted each "one hundred gallous," or the tenth of that quantity. That there has been and is some waste of water is very probable, and it is certainly most unjust and shameful that, while any family or citizen is deprived of the supply necessary for comfort, health, and security, for which he pays both in city taxes and water-rents, there should be ten times as much as he needs wasted before his eyes, not only in ornamental fountains, but in sprinkling the streets, and thereby produ- cents a single copy. ing poisonous malaria by the fermentation and putrefaction of animal and vegetable

With proper management of the water supply to be had from the river, even in seasons of the most protracted drought, there should be enough water for the use of the city, not only to supply every inhabitant with all that he needed of pure, clear water for his individual use, but also to keep constantly flushed and clean the sewers of the city, and thus prevent the poisonous gases now emitted at most of the corners of the streets
